

Louis Mangione

The Guest Speaker for our FLAVA 2007 Conference
An Inspirational Experience for Everybody

Louis Mangione is a dynamic presenter and an outstanding secondary teacher with 16 years of classroom experience. He has been presenting workshops on instructional strategies to educators across the United States for nearly a decade, working with individual schools, school districts, universities, state and national conferences, and the Bureau of Education and Research. Best known for involving the participants in the learning process, Louis uses a hands-on approach that demonstrates effective strategies for teaching all students, regardless of learning style, cultural background or special needs.

Louis continues to promote instructional excellence to teachers across the U.S. He provides staff development to faculties with a variety professional goals, including those who are teaching to diverse student populations and those working in unique schedule configurations.

Enhancing Teaching and Learning
Across the Curriculum

Improving Outcomes for
ELL and LEP populations

Engaging Learners in Extended Class Periods

Meeting the Needs of Diverse
Student Populations through Active Learning Strategies

Maximizing Communication in World Language and ESL Classes

From his website:
<http://www.louismangione.com/index.html>

Schedule of Appearances at FLAVA Saturday, October 13, 2007

10:45 – 11:15 am

Creating Understanding Through Imagery: The Transformative Power of the Imagination

9:15 am

Keynote Speech

Language as a Contact Sport

12:15 – 1:05 pm

Total Physical Involvement